

TWTTIN Individual Project

Your Choice

Choose 1 of the following projects. All projects must be school appropriate!

1. Write a newspaper article and an obituary reporting Charlie's death.
2. Write titles for each chapter and explain why you named the chapter what you did.
3. Draw a picture illustrating any incident in the book which interests you.
4. Make a mobile of pictures that have significance in the story. On the back of each, write a short explanation of the part the item plays in the story.
5. Write a magazine interview. Interview a character asking all kinds of questions (at least 15 questions). Introduce the character with some background, write the interview with the question/answer format and then have a closing paragraph.
6. Make a 3 page comic book telling the story. It must have four rows per page. You may draw them, use computer graphics, magazines, etc. for the illustrations and use the "bubbles" for the talking.
7. Create a movie poster for this novel. You need to have a picture and a creative slogan for the ad campaign. You need to select a cast to play the central campaign. Then write a paragraph discussing who has been selected and why you feel that person is the best actor/actress to play that particular role.

8. Respond to the story by writing a letter to the author. You should explain whether or not you found the story believable and how you responded to the characters and their problems.
9. Create a timeline of important events from the book. It should include the date (or approximate date) of the event, a brief description, and an illustration.
10. You may create your own project; however, you must pitch your idea to me and get my approval first.
